Profile

20+ years of experience in large-scale projects with high budgets, major risks and complex teams.

Competence

I hold the highest IPMA project management certification, Level A. Only around 150 people in Germany hold this qualification.

Structural Clarity

I find the common thread in complex situations and create transparency. I quickly penetrate complexity, recognize patterns and prioritize so that many individual fires become a controllable overall picture.

Human Leadership

I involve people, communicate directly, transparently and respectfully. I bring momentum, energy and drive, combined with empathy and the resilience needed to make unpopular decisions.

Areas of Application

When do I come into play?

- When a key role needs to be filled at short notice
- When a project requires additional clarity and structure
- For critical projects in distress
- For turnaround and stabilization
